Daryna Shevchuk

Technical Product Manager · Mobile & AI Products · Product Discovery & Delivery

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Technical Product/Project Manager with nearly 5 years in IT, specialising in end-to-end product delivery across mobile, web, and SaaS platforms. Experienced in leading cross-functional teams through ambiguity — from product discovery and API definition to stakeholder alignment and release. Proven ability to translate complex business needs into actionable product roadmaps. Hands-on AI implementation experience (chatbots, AI assistants, email generation tools) in real production environments. Known for bridging business goals with technical execution — and for delivering even in crisis: successfully coordinated recovery from a major user-loss event, re-aligning priorities, stabilising delivery, and driving retention improvements.

EXPERIENCE

Product Project Manager

Brocoders | On-demand Technical Team | Apr 2024 – Present | Kyiv, Ukraine

- Led end-to-end delivery of wellness-focused mobile applications; coordinated backend, third-party, and AI integrations
- Defined API requirements and validated backend specifications for mobile app features
- Coordinated AI-powered feature delivery: intelligent assistants, email generation tools, and chatbot integrations
- Structured and enhanced interactive Figma prototypes to align with business goals and UX consistency
- Managed full CRM system lifecycle — from architecture planning through QA and stakeholder sign-off
- Translated ambiguous business requirements into clear development tasks with well-defined acceptance criteria
- Led crisis management response to a significant user-loss event: root cause analysis, team realignment, retention recovery
